

PRODUCT RECALL

Homebase LED nightlight

We have identified a quality concern with the LED Nightlight which may cause the product to fail prematurely. The product has been made without an internal fuse, and in certain situations this may lead to premature failure of other components. Whilst the product fails in a safe manner it does not fully comply with the low voltage Directive. We have taken the decision to recall the product as a precautionary measure.

Please stop using the product and return it to store for a full refund.

Alternatively, please call customer services on the following number: 0345 077 8888.
